

Responding to Escalating Behavior in Schools

What is an Effective Teacher?

- Anyone can tell students something or tell them what to do
- A teacher creates a set of circumstances that increase the probability of the student being successful now and in the future

The Wager

You get $10,000 if . . .

- The student remains in the classroom
- The student gets work done
- Other students are able to get work done

What would you ask the teacher to do differently?

Keys to Addressing Disruptive Behavior

Beforehand

- As much as possible, avoid situations that tend to trigger disruption

After Disruption

- Recognize student agitation early
- Redirect student in clear and neutral manner
 - Clearly state the expected task
- Communicate concern for student
 - Present options
 - Be private as much as possible – but do not hover
 - Assist student to begin work
- Acknowledge compliance or institute standard consequence in neutral manner
- Continue to attend to other students
- Activate crisis plan as needed

Responding to Escalating Behavior in Schools

Keys to Addressing
Non-Compliance and Defiance

Beforehand:

- Teach expected behavior and be clear about what student is to do
 - Provide reminders – especially at times where non-compliance is predictable
- Teach a standard consequence for non-compliance

In Response to Non-Compliance

- Provide one very clear direction for student to follow
 - Be neutral but direct to student with eye contact
 - Stay with the direction – broken record
 - All other student requests and issues are contingent upon compliance
- Follow-up with student quietly rather than in front of group
- Acknowledge cooperation or implement consequence in a neutral manner
- Continue to acknowledge other on-task students

Keys to Addressing
Disrespectful Behavior

Beforehand

- Teach what it means to be respectful and provide positive/negative examples

In Response to Disrespect

- Acknowledge respectful students
- Indicate that action was disrespectful in a neutral manner
- Indicate need follow-up with the disrespectful student later
 - Do not overreact
 - Do not get angry or frustrated
 - Do not allow disrespect to distract from lesson
- Continue with instruction
- If disrespect continues assign class a task and talk to student individually
 - Do not allow student to get peer attention by confronting in front of class

Keys to Addressing
Provocative Behavior

(profanity, vulgarity, inappropriate actions/attire)

Beforehand

- Teach what is and is not acceptable behavior
 - Tie to school-wide expectations
- Teach a standard consequence

After Provocative Behavior

- Speak privately to student
- Identify as a problem for the student
 - Ask the student to take care of the problem
 - Present options and ask the student to select one
- Acknowledge cooperation
- Follow through with bottom line consequence
